Local physician launches new service

Zionsville resident Ed Kowlowitz, M.D., board-certified pain physician and owner and medical director of the Center for Pain Management, recently launched a new service at his Indianapolis practice designed to provide rapid diagnosis and treatment for people suffering from acute back and neck pain. Through its new acute care program, the Center provides access to treatment by a physician with special qualifications in pain management within 48 hours for adults experiencing a sudden onset of back or neck pain.

“Acute conditions come on suddenly and can last a few days to a few weeks,” Kowlowitz said. “Most adults experience pain that impacts their day-to-day functioning at some point in their lives.”

The Center for Pain Management focuses exclusively on treating patients who suffer from back, head, neck, joint or cancer-related pain.
